We are authorized to announce

J. EDWIN ROWE

As a candidate for re-election to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney in the 6th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

In the Special Election last spring to elect a successor to Dr. A. D. James to the State Senate, the Democrats were to support Esqr. Render, the Populist, against Dr. James, the Republican. That was where the Democrats showed their love for the Populists. Did they vote for Mr. Render? Certainly not. Why? He was a Populist. "You can fool some of the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

THAT CASE IN POINT.

The Beaver Dam Gleaner sticks out for principles at all times and being outspoken in its editorial columns the editor has seen fit in the last few issues of his paper to give some points regarding people who will sacrifice principles for a bare chance to run for office. This principle business does not suit the flimsy editors of our city neighbor with English proclivities, hence they proceed to give Bro. Likens a drubbing this week, which read between the lines means that "everybody who does not see as we do will be damned." The Herald says:

"The Prohibitionists seem to have joined forces with the 'holier-than-thou' crowd, composed mostly of gold-diggers and Republicans and are just now raising a great hue and cry against the practice of office-holding, also against Populist fusion, and against almost everything in general, while their own plea of prohibition receives little attention."

The Beaver Dam Gleaner has thrown its own back and comes charging at us, like it would run over us whether or no, because we have announced our support of the fusion ticket, and it incidentally jumps on the Democrats and Populist for even thinking of wanting office. Of course Mr. Likens, of the Gleaner, don't want office—oh, no—he would not like a practiced sprinter if he should hear of anybody on his track proffering any kind of an official position. This was evidenced a month or two ago by a letter received by The Herald from that gentleman saying that he had a good chance of getting the position of State Organizer of his party and asking us to give him a lift in that direction. Of course we gave him a lift—he is a clever young man—then we lost sight of the matter and did not know he had gotten the position until we received a card from him stating the fact and asking us to make a note of it in The Herald. Now of course Mr. Likens did not want this office—he was just simply "in the hands of his friends." We would advise Mr. Likens to stick to his notions, the empty whiskey bottle, or come out straight on the side of the Republicans, for whom he seems to have such a close affinity. All of which is most respectfully and kindly submitted.

The Herald advises Mr. Likens to stick to his empty whiskey bottle—his principles—and at the same time they have forsaken principles to support a ticket made up of Populists and Democrats. We would advise the Herald to tread carefully along the lines of principles and to pluck the motto out of his own eye, before advising other people to stick to principles.

PISO'S CURE FOR
GOUT, GRAVEL, RHEUMATISM,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE URINARY TRACT.
ONCE TAKEN, IT CURES.
BOTTLES 25 CENTS.

This Democratic house say that their men on the fusion ticket will run from 50 to 200 votes ahead of the Populists on the same ticket, because their men will not vote for a Populist. So we see the love that the Democrats have for their Populist brethren.

"WHICH SHALL IT BE?"

We notice from our two county contemporaries, both claiming to represent entirely different views in regard to the management of affairs of the Nation, that they have the ticket recently nominated by the Democratic Populists, at the head of their papers under different heads. The Hartford Herald, Democrat, says:

DEMOCRATIC FUSION TICKET.

For Representative—G. D. Black.
For Circuit Clerk—G. B. Likens.
For County Judge—J. P. Miller.
For County Clerk—H. T. Thompson.
For County Attorney—J. B. Vickers.
For Sheriff—W. M. Addington.
For Jailer—Warren Taylor.
For School Supt.—J. D. Hocker.
For Coroner—J. J. Hoover.
For Surveyor—J. W. Petty.
For Assessor—J. D. Spurrier.

The Fordville Express, Populist, says:

POPULIST FUSION COUNTY TICKET.

For Representative—G. D. Black.
For Circuit Clerk—G. B. Likens.
For County Judge—J. P. Miller.
For County Clerk—H. T. Thompson.
For County Attorney—J. B. Vickers.
For Sheriff—W. M. Addington.
For Jailer—Warren Taylor.
For School Supt.—J. D. Hocker.
For Coroner—J. J. Hoover.
For Surveyor—J. W. Petty.
For Assessor—J. D. Spurrier.

Now, the question will arise which is correct, and the final outcome will be that neither is correct, for the men nominated at that convention will be put under the rooster on the ballot and will be headed "Democratic Ticket," and it seems to be the aim of our contemporaries to keep their readers ignorant of the fact as long as possible. Heretofore whenever a Democratic ticket was nominated the Herald always displayed the emblem of its party, but now they will not put up the emblem for they know that the Populists will not vote under that emblem, and they are trying to keep them in the dark regarding the matter, and want them to think that there will be a fusion device.

A large number of Populists have been led to believe that there will be a fusion device, and it was only last week that a good, honest Populist was in our office and he thought they would have a fusion device, as his Democratic neighbors had told him so; he said he would not vote that ticket if he had in vote under the rooster, so, dear readers, you can readily see why the device is not put up, and we only mention these facts so that the people may know the facts in the case. The Democrats refused to give up their device because they said it would kill their party, but they wanted to kill the Populist party and would force them to give up their device, thereby throwing all the Populists into the Democratic party.

EASTER.

It is generally understood that Easter Day is observed in commemoration of the Resurrection of Christ. However as last Sunday week was Easter, a few remarks regarding the origin of this celebration, may not be amiss. The word Easter is derived from an old Saxon word, Oster, meaning "rising." We find this by reference to the books; our knowledge of the old Saxon language being some what limited.

This day has been observed in some fashion for ages; it has not always had the same significance attached to it that we give it in this day and time.

The English name was derived from that of the Teutonic Goddess of Spring, Eostre, whose festival was held about the same time of the year that we observe Easter.

It seems therefore in the early history of our English ancestors, that Easter was observed in honor of Spring.

It seems that in the early history of Christianity some Christians held that Christ was slain on the same day that the Jews observed as the feast of the passover, hence they observed April 14th as Easter, which was the same day observed by the Jews for the feast of the passover.

Other Christians thought the day of Christ's resurrection was more important than the day of his death and therefore held to Easter being observed on the Sunday which followed the 14th day of the Moon of March. Discussions arose as to which was the proper day to be observed, and came near causing a schism in the church. However in 825 A. D. the European Constantine had the matter brought before the Council at Nice. Here the question was fully discussed and finally resulted in the following rule being established for the whole church: "Easter Day is the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the March 21st; and if the full moon happens on Sunday, Easter Day is the Sunday after."

Hence Easter may come as early as March 22d or as late as April 25th. Easter has been observed since the establishment of the Christian Church and is now observed by all Christian Churches.

In the early history of Christianity on East or day all churches were ornamented with large wax candles, and Christians saluted one another with a kiss and the words, "Christ is risen!" to this a response was made, "Christ is indeed risen." This custom is still observed in the Greek Church.

The custom of using Easter eggs is also very old. It is said that on a royal roll of the time of Edward I. in England, which is still preserved, appears an entry of 18 pence for 400 eggs to be used as Easter gifts.

It is a legend in parts of Iceland and also among some people in this country that the sun dances as it rises on Easter morning.

Easter as it is observed to-day is a day of worship; a day on which all should be devoutly thankful for mercies received; a day on which both saint and sinner should be spiritually minded.

Well Sire the Mercantile.

Mr. L. A. Maden, of Palo, Ohio county, arrived in the city yesterday from Evansville. While in Evansville Maden was arrested by the police officers of that city, on the charge of murdering his father, Anthony Maden. The charge was preferred by C. E. Morrison, city marshal of Hartford, who telegraphed the Evansville officers to hold Maden until he could get there. Maden was placed in jail Monday night, where he remained until yesterday morning, when Morrison ordered him released, saying he was mistaken in his man. Maden was very indignant when seen by a reporter yesterday, and said he intended bringing suit against Morrison's Londoners at once.

Seven or eight years ago, Maden and his father had a difficulty, and the son placed a load of buckshot in his father, who, however, recovered, and is now hale and hearty. About four years ago Maden was employed as an engineer in this city. He left over the Illinois Central yesterday for his home.

Mr. Morrison was also seen by a reporter yesterday, he being on his way home from Evansville. He said that some days ago Alfred Hudson, a young white man, of Hartford, had committed rape on the person of a nine-year-old colored girl, and, after being arrested, had escaped from the officers and that it was thought he had gone to Evansville. Morrison said he telegraphed the Evansville police to watch out for Hudson. Later he received notice from the officers of that city saying they had a man in their keeping from Ohio county, who gave his name as L. Maden and asking Morrison if he thought could be Hudson. Morrison said he at once wired them to hold him until he could get there. He says Maden was not arrested on a murder charge at his instigation and that he does not fear the result of a law-suit. —[Owensboro Messenger.]

Senator Deboe.

With great heartiness The Leader congratulates the Republican party of Kentucky and the Nation at large because of the election today of William J. Deboe to succeed Mr. Blackburn in the United States Senate. As a Republican, true to every tenet of his party's faith, he has risen by virtue of his ability and faithfulness to his present eminent position. He has proven himself equal to the discharge of the various trusts imposed upon him by his party. As an officer, he has served his State with conspicuous talents. As a private citizen he enjoys the perfect confidence of all who know him. That he will honor the position that he has been called to fill, is most certain. He wins this honor by a way dramatic and memorable. His every part in that great contest was borne honorably and with a sole desire to further the best interests of his party, and the end of the contest is one that will justify itself, even as the election of Dr. Hunter would have been only justice and the duty that the Republicans owed to itself.

Senator Deboe succeeds one whose career has been marked by brilliancy and blundering. Kentucky can rest assured that in her new representative she will have a servant who will seek her good and the Nation's good rather than his own personal aggrandizement. Kentuckians will have at Washington a friend devoted and tireless in seeking their welfare. Many places will miss the late Senator from Kentucky, and perhaps they will not know the junior Senator. But Kentucky will be none the worse for that, perhaps, and as we welcome gladly Senator Deboe, we say goodbye to Mr. Blackburn, the Senator, with no regret, even though we greet him cordially as a private citizen. —[Lexington Leader.]

A CALL MEETING.

Proceedings of the Populist Call Meeting.

WESTFIELD, KY., April 20.

The Populists met in this precinct last Saturday to consider whether to vote the Democratic ticket again this election as stated by one of the committee, who was made temporary chairman. After the preliminary work was completed a committee on resolutions was appointed. The committee retired from the room for about twenty-five minutes and returned with resolutions denouncing fusion with any party.

The resolutions, before their passage, called forth quite a number of ardent and very candid speeches, relating to the recent scheming and sell out by the leaders (?) of their party.

Speeches were made by K. H. Martin, J. R. Henry, W. A. Helm, Wm. Lake, Elder Hawkins, Jacob Weller, Robt. Hickey, Henry King, Aaron Hawkins, R. D. Dolsen and others made short expressions to indicate their displeasure at the recent proceedings of their would-be leaders, who attempted to plunge them into an abyss of political ruin, and tarnish the moral purity of their unsullied name. One said their party had been largely delivered to pie-buffers, but he wanted it understood he would never be delivered again. Another said the People's party formerly had two enemies—the Republican party and the Democratic party—but now he has the fusion party, which is the bitterest foe it has ever encountered; because its leaders assume to be friends, which they are only office seekers, a class repudiated by Populists. We, as Populists, care not for the source from which reformation comes, just so it comes; but Democracy is too degraded to give relief to any body, and no one capable of perceiving present environments and their past record can reasonably expect it. Another said he never voted the Democratic ticket but once, and that was at the last election, he was sold and delivered, but would never be again.

Several said they left the Democratic party because it is dead and rotten and if they could get nothing better to vote for they would stay at home. They left it because they were ashamed of it, and possessed too much manhood to return to such a shameful and disgraceful organization and give their suffrage to sustain their fiendish devotees.

Another said he desired a full Populist ticket so he could vote his exact sentiments, but let it be known that if he selects between the cabin and the rooster he would take the cabin.

Another said fusion is ruining the party, because, if fusionists, we are on the block and liable to be delivered to any market where the demand and remuneration are sufficient, and no one desires to enter such a party. We are men of principles and by our principles we'll "sink or swim; live or die," our party may die, its principles never.

Another said the Democrats refused to give up their device, as their chairman stated, because it disorganizes and discredits their party, and its voters are too true to chicken to touch their stencil under the Plow and Hammer, but the same rule the Democrats applies to himself applied to the Populists will destroy them. Let the Demolitee vote under the rooster, I'll vote under the Plow and Hammer.

It was suggested that they give the Democrats no other chance to bait their hook for them. They had bit once too often already. Many other things were said, but these I write that you may know that Populists can not be delivered by party bosses into the fold of any party.

It was developed during the meeting that some one of the fusion elements, when the Demo-Pop committee were considering how to conduct the campaign, that they discourage the use of Populist literature, as it was all against fusion.

The meeting was composed of some of our most scrupulous and upright citizens. Citizens who are sacredly devoted to the Populist party.

The resolutions were carried by a unanimous vote and are to be sent to the Fordville Express and the Hartford Republican for publication.

A VISITOR.

Quarterly Conference.

The Third Quarterly Conference for Hartford Circuit M. B. Church South, will be held at Goshen May 13 and 16, 1897. In consequence of this, I will not preach in Hartford on that day at 11 o'clock, but will preach at night. The fourth Sunday will be children's day in Hartford, I expect to be present, but will not preach until night. I will be at Liberty the second Sunday in May. The appointment to that time at Goshen is hereby called in. Let all concerned observe these changes. I regret that Dr. Hayes cannot be with us at Quarterly Conference. I hope the official members will turn out generally and that many others will be present. Let us pray for a good meeting. J. S. CHANDLER, P. C.

NOTICE OF DEATH.

Noble Greece, suddenly brave, Stands singly and alone, Delying the powers to enslave, Her people and her throne.

Sovereign Kings invade the Cretes, To cast off the Sultan's chains And anchored massive armed fleets In shot of Candia's plains.

But Greece, who in a fateful hour, Drive Xerxes' army to the sea; Stands unarméd before the powers, And declares the Creteans free.

Brave Gricians go to Homer's shrine; And entreat the sleeping bard; To thrill his country with a rhyme 'That will tree the Nation's ward.

Then go to Alexia's grave— That king of soldiers, bid him rise, To lead the gallant and the brave, To victory 'neath her Grecian skies.

But no, let Homer keep his grave, He has earned eternal rest, For patriotism is ablaze, Already in each Grecian breast.

Let Alexander slumber too; You will find one to command Yours soldiers and the thousands who Will come from other lands.

Then noble Greece, God-speed thee on In freedom's cause, 'Tis holy work To lead the suffering Creteans from The dominion of the godless Turk.

—J. H. THOMAS

Work for Americans.

The requirements of American foreign commerce compel the annual construction of about half a million tons of ships. Practically speaking, none of this is now constructed in the United States. Roughly speaking, about fifty millions of dollars would be spent in the shipyards of the United States, if the needed half million tons of vessels were annually constructed here. This would create a demand for about a couple of million tons of iron ore, and a corresponding amount of coal and coke and lime. It would give our rolling mills, our forges and our foundries vast amount of new work; our lumber mills would find a large demand for material for ship construction and equipment; the manufacturing establishments would be busied in making the multitude of articles needed to equip and maintain ships. The farmers would be called upon to supply food for hundreds of thousands of families whose fathers, husbands and sons would find new employment in all the variety of industries that are called upon to supply the materials and articles which enter into ship construction. —[Sensational March 18, 1897.]

Silver Man Thompson After a Visit to Mexico.

Mr. T. F. Pyle and wife, of Chicago, Ill., are spending a few days at Mr. W. T. Phillips, near Harrodsburg, says the Democrat. Mr. Pyle represents the Kelly Steam Hauler Company, of Springfield, O., and has been traveling through Mexico in the interest of his firm the past year. He went there a free silverite, but returns a gold-bug of the most pronounced kind. He says that under the blighting influence of its monetary system agricultural products in that country are cheaper than in this, while commodities the farmer needs are double the cost of the same here, a state of affairs directly opposite to that claimed by the free silver people. Ninety per cent, of the people live in most abject poverty, and a coal-burner in Harrodsburg would be considered a palace in that country. Land has depreciated and sugar costs from 9 to 10 cents a pound and meat from 18 to 20 cents a pound, and an undershirt that cost 50 cents here sells there at $1.75. A laborer is paid from 40 to 50 cents in Mexican coin for a day's work, but a skilled laborer does a little better. Such is the condition of affairs that a bank note issued by one State passes at a discount in others, and in many will not even pass that way. The only currency it at passes at par value is the National Bank of Mexico note and that of the Bank of England, it being a penal offense to discount either of these. Our silver dollar is worth from 194 to 200 cents in their silver, State or national bank money, while our silver dollar can be exchanged even for their gold dollar. No distinction is made between our gold dollar, silver dollar or bank note. They are protectionists, and not only charge a duty on all imports, but on all articles carried from one State to another. At present, however, they are allowing American corn to be shipped into their country free of charge because of a failure of their corn crop. Mr. Pyle had a note for $12,000 signed by the city of Monterrey and the payment guaranteed by the State of Nuevo Leon, the best State in the republic. It bore 6 per cent, interest and was payable in six months. The three banks in Monterrey refused to discount it, as did the National Bank of Mexico, because of the fluctuation of silver, but would have been willing to have taken chances had it been a thirty day note. He finally got his money by paying heavily for it.

Gloomy, Hopeless Life

Internal Pains—Lame, Tired, Nervous—Every Bad Symptom Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For nearly five years I suffered with a severe case of stomach trouble. I had pains in my stomach and bowels so that I could not stand or work without great suffering. My appetite was very poor and when I did eat anything I was shortly afterwards sick with vomiting again. I could not rest at night and felt lame and tired all over. I became nervous and had no energy whatever. My life seemed gloomy and hopeless. My husband advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as he had been taking it with great benefit. I began taking it and the first bottle did me a great deal of good. I continued with it regularly and have now almost fully regained my natural weight and am doing nearly all my housework." Mrs. IRENE COCKEY, Gladstone, Ala.

"My blood was out of order and I had no energy. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I felt better than for years." MARTIN W. BARTT, Columbus, Alabama.

time."

THAT CASE IN POINT.

The Beaver Dam Gleaner sticks out for principles at all times and being outspoken in its editorial columns the editor has seen fit in the last few issues of his paper to give some points

regarding people who will sacrifice principles for a bare chance to run for office. This principle business does not suit the flim-flam editors of our city neighbor with English proclivities, hence they proceed to give

Bro. Likens a drubbing this week, which read between the lines means that "everybody who does not see as we do will be damned." The Herald

says:

"The Prohibitionists seem to have joined forces with the "holier-than-thou" crowd, composed mostly of gold-bugs and Republicans and are just now raising a great hue and cry against the practice of office holding also against Populist fusion, and against almost everything in general,

while their own plea of prohibition

receives little attention

The Beaver Dam Gleaner has thrown its ears back and comes charging at us, like it would run over us whether or no, because we have announced our support of the fusion ticket, and it incidentally jumps on the Democrats and Populist for even thinking of waiting office. Of course

Mr. Likens, of the Gleaner, don't want office—oh, no—he would run like a pranced sprinter if he should hear of anybody on his track proffer-

ing any kind of an official position.

This was evidenced a month or two ago by a letter received by The Herald

from that gentleman saying that he had a good chance of getting the position of State Organizer of his party and asking us to give him a lift in that direction. Of course we gave him a lift—he is a clever young man

—then we lost sight of the matter and did not know he had gotten the position until we received a card from him stating the fact and asking us to make a note of it in The Herald.

Now of course Mr. Likens did not want this office—he was just simply

"in the hands of his friends." We would advise Mr. Likens to stick to his motto, the empty whisky bottle or come out straight on the side of the Republicans, for whom he seems to have such a close affinity. All of which is most respectfully and kindly submitted.

The Herald advises Mr. Likens to stick to his empty whisky bottle—his principles—and at the same time they have forsaken principles to support a ticket made up of Populists and Democrats. We would advise the Herald to tread carefully along the lines of principles and to pluck the meat out of his own eye, before advising other people to stick to principles.

WANTED—To borrow $100.00 on property worth 4 times the amount

Call on or address A. B. Carr, The Republican, Hartford, Ky.

The Democratic bosses say that their men on the fusion ticket will run from 50 to 200 votes ahead of the Populists on the same ticket, because their men will not vote for a Populist.
So we see the love that the Democrats have for their Populist brethren.

"WHICH SHALL IT BE?"

We notice from our two county contemporaries, both claiming to represent entirely different views in regard to the management of affairs of the Nation, that they have the ticket

recently nominated by the Democrats, at the head of their papers

under different heads. The Hartford

Herald, Democrat, says:

DEMOCRATIC FUSION TICKET.

For Representative—G. D. Black.

For Circuit Clerk—G. B. Likens.

For County Judge—J. P. Miller.

For County Clerk—H. T. Thompson.

For County Attorney—Jo. B. Vickers.

For Sheriff—W. M. Addington.

For Jailer—V. Wren Taylor.

For School Supt.—J. D. Hocker.

For Coroner—J. J. Hoover.

For Surveyor—J. W. Petty.

For Assessor—J. D. Spurrler.

The Fordville Express, Populist,

says:

POPULIST FUSION TICKET.

For Representative—G. D. Black.

For Circuit Clerk—G. B. Likens.

For County Judge—J. P. Miller.

For County Clerk—H. T. Thompson.

For County Attorney—Jo. B. Vickers.

For Sheriff—W. M. Addington.

For Jailer—Warren Taylor.

For School Supt.—J. D. Hocker.

For Coroner—J. J. Hoover.

For Surveyor—J. W. Petty.

For Assessor—J. D. Spurrler.

Now, the question will arise which is correct, and the final outcome will be that neither is correct, for the men nominated at that convention will be put under the rooster on the ballot

and will be headed "Democratic Ticket," and it seems to be the aim of our contemporaries to keep their readers ignorant of the fact as long as possible. Heretofore whenever a Democratic ticket was nominated the Herald always displayed the emblem of its party, but now they will not put up the emblem for they know that the Populists will not vote under that emblem, and they are trying to keep them in the dark regarding the matter, and want them to think that there will be a fusion device.

A large number of Populists have been led to believe that there will be a fusion device, and it was only last week that a good, honest Populist was in our office and he thought they would have a fusion device, as his Democratic neighbors had told him

so; he said he would not vote that ticket if he had to vote under the rooster, so, dear readers, you can readily see why the device is not put up, and we only mention these facts

so that the people may know the facts in the case. The Democrats refused to give up their device because they said it would kill their party, but they wanted to kill the Populist party would force them to give up their device, thereby throwing all the Populists into the Democratic party.

EASTER.

It is generally understood that

Easter Day is observed in commemoration of the Resurrection of Christ.

However as last Sunday week was Easter, a few remarks regarding the origin of this celebration, may not be amiss. The word Easter is derived from an old Saxon word, Ostar, meaning "rising." We find this by reference to the books; our knowledge of the old Saxon language being somewhat limited.

This day has been observed in some fashion for ages; it has not always had the same significance attached to it that we give it in this day and

time.

The English name was derived from that of the Teutonic Goddess of Spring, Eostre, whose festival was held about the same time of the year that we observe Easter.

It seems therefore in the early history of our English ancestors, that Easter was observed in honor of Spring.

It seems that in the early history of Christianity some Christians held that Christ was slain on the same day that the Jews observed as the Feast of the Passover, hence they observed April

14th as Easter, which was the same day observed by the Jews for the feast of the Passover.

Other Christians thought the day of Christ's resurrection was more important than the day of his death and therefore held Easter being observed on the Sunday which followed the 14th day of the Moon of March.

Discussions arose as to which was the proper day to be observed, and came near causing a schism in the church.

However in 325 A. D. the European Constantine had the matter brought before the Council at Nice. Here

the question was fully discussed and finally resulted in the following rule

being established for the whole church: "Easter Day is the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the March

21st; and if the full moon happens on

Sunday, Easter Day is the Sunday

after."

Hence Easter may come as early as March 22d or as late as April 25th.

Easter has been observed since the establishment of the Christian Church,

and is now observed by all Christian Churches.

In the early history of Christianity

on East or day all churches were ornamented with large wax candles, and Christians saluted one another with a kiss and the words, "Christ is risen,"
to this a response was made, "Christ is indeed risen." This custom is still

observed in the Greek Church.

The custom of using Easter eggs is a very old one. It is said that on a royal roll of the time of Edward I.

of England, which is still preserved,

appears an entry of 18 pence for 400

eggs to be used as Easter gifts.

It is a legend in parts of Iceland and also among some people in this country that the sun dances as it

risens on Easter morning.

Easter as it is observed to-day is a day of worship; a day on which all should be devoutly thankful for mercies received; a day on which both saint and sinner should be spiritually

mindful.

Will You See the Marshal?

Mr. L. A. Maden, of Palo, Ohio

county, arrived in the city yesterday

from Evansville. While in Evansville Maden was arrested by the police officers of that city, on the charge of murdering his father, Anthony Mad-en. The charge was preferred by C.

E. Morrison, city marshal of Hartford, who telegraphed the Evansville officers to hold Maden until he could get there. Maden was placed in jail

Monday night, where he remained until yesterday morning, when Morrison ordered him released, saying he was mistaken in his man. Maden was very indignant when seen by a reporter yesterday, and said he intended bringing suit against Morrison's Londoners at once.

Seven or eight years ago, Maden and his father had a difficulty, and the son placed a load of buckshot in his father, who, however, recovered, and is now hale and hearty. About

Changing sentiment. Some idea of the change in sentiment in the South regarding the Tariff question may be gained from this excerpt from the "Atlanta Constitution": "We have received a letter from a prominent lumberman of Savannah, who writes to ask if the 'Constitution' will aid the lumbermen of the United States to have a Protective Tariff of $2 a thousand placed on lumber, if we consistently can."

And the "Constitution" answers: "From the foundation of the Government there was a duty of $2 a thousand on lumber until the professors of economy in the last Congress abolished it, at the demand of a combination of capitalists who had invested in Canadian timber. It was a fine scheme to sell out American interests in behalf of a principle, and it worked admirably—for the Canadians and the capitalist combine."

Curiously enough, too, the "Constitution" holds that "Free Trade never was, and never will be, a part of the Democratic dogma. For it is the opposite of a Revenue Tariff, which is the basis of Democratic economies. If the 'Constitution' favored Free Trade, it could not consistently do what our old friend asks us to do."

To Republican Protectionists, this seems like quibbling, but two facts are very apparent. One is that Southern lumbermen are for Protection, and the other is that the leading Democratic paper of the South favors it under the guise of a revenue measure. If the South contains many such men as these there should be no difficulty in bringing enough pressure on the Senators to pass a Tariff act—(Buffalo, N. Y. Express)

Your Vitality?

The essence of life is force. Every breath you breathe, every heart beat, every motion of your hand, takes force. The measure of force we call vitality. If this is lacking, there is loss of flesh, lack of restful power, a tendency to catch colds easily, especially a tendency to Consumption. For low vitality nothing is better than Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the strengthening elements of food in an easily digested form, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. When ordinary food is of no avail, Scott's Emulsion will supply the body with all the vital elements of life.

WILL NOMINATE.

The Populists of Ohio County Say They will Have a County Ticket.

Mr. J. R. Henry, a substantial farmer and a leading Populist of Bartlett precinct was in Hartford yesterday in conversation with a reporter for THE REPUBLICAN and said that the Populists of Ohio county were now organizing for the county campaign and were going to hold a meeting Monday to formulate plans, so as to maintain their party. He was very enthusiastic for the measure and claims that all the Populists of Bartlett and Maysan precincts were in earnest in regard to the matter and a full Populist ticket was certain to be put in the field for the county office.

He recited instances where Chairman Holbrook, of the Democratic party, said that his party would not give up the rooster as it would kill the Democratic party, and then he said Holbrook had the cheek to ask the Populists to give up their device—the Plow and Hammer. He said the Populists would meet and nominate good men for all the offices and would make an aggressive campaign. He left the Democratic party because it was corrupt and would do nothing for the people and he would not be thrown with that class of people any more. He declared that the Democrats had broken every promise they had ever made the people and he knew that they could not be relied upon to carry out any policy outlined by them. He further said that the Democrats had gone into by a side alley in the Democratic party will not work.

Mr. Russell was tried in the County Court Tuesday and was adjudged to be of unsound mind and he was conveyed to the Hopkinsville Asylum by Messrs Hunt and Coots.

Mr. R. C. Sutphin, who has been in Hartford for the past few months in the jewelry business, has gone to Elizabethtown where he has accepted a position in a jewelry store.

REPUBLICAN SENATOR.

William J. Deboe Elected After a Long Struggle.

Received Seventy-one Votes in the Joint Assembly.

Will go Straight to Washington to Assist Republican Legislation.

Blackburn Dies Hard, Politically, and Pours hot Shots into the Gold Democrats.

ALL KENTUCKY GLAD.

Deboe, 71. Blackburn, 50. Martin, 19. Stone, 1.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—The hardest fought Senatorial struggle in the history of Kentucky is at an end, and a clean, pure and able Republican statesman will succeed Hon. J. C. Blackburn, who has misrepresented the real sentiments of the people of Kentucky so long.

The end of the memorable struggle, extending over two sessions of the Legislature, brought with it the election of Hon. William J. Deboe, one of the best Republicans in the State. Only forty seven years of age, young, active and brilliant, Senator Deboe will be a credit to his party and an honor to his State. He goes to the Senate with no cliques, rings or pledges to bind him, but as a true representative of every Kentuckian in the State.

Senator Deboe will be on hand ready to vote in the Senate on Monday, and he will cast his vote for Republican principles.

Amid the wildest cheering, hand-clapping, waving of parasols, fans and handkerchiefs, Hon. W. J. Deboe was declared elected today to be the successor of J. C. Blackburn in the United States Senate.

Before the result of the ballot was announced the cheering began, and in the excitement of the moment a motion to adjourn was entertained and adopted before the newly elected Senator could be brought in for a speech.

He received his friends in the west library room after the session, where hundreds called to congratulate him. The sixtieth and final ballot of the session of the General Assembly was held today at noon, in the presence of the largest crowd ever present in the historic old hall of the House of Representatives.

The lobbies and galleries were filled, and long before the Senate filed in it was almost impossible to move around on the floor of the House.

The Governor and all the State officers were present, smiling and happy, on what they knew was to be the final and victorious day of the joint session. The Senate was announced by Doorkeeper Reed promptly at 12 o'clock, and they were fully ten minutes getting seated, when the Lieutenant Governor announced that the session held was for the purpose of taking the sixtieth ballot for the election of a United States Senator from Kentucky.

The reading of the journal of yesterday was dispensed with, on motion of W. H. Jones.

The Clerk then called the roll to ascertain if a quorum was present. Sixty-nine Republicans and twelve sound money Democrats responded to the call, and the Chair announced that eighty one members were present.

Mr. Howard of Butler, then formally nominated Hon. W. J. Deboe for United States Senator. Amid loud cheers Senator W. H. Clark seconded the nomination.

The Chair requested that the House be as quiet as possible while the ballot was being taken, and then ordered the Clerk to proceed with the roll call.

The Democrats refused to vote when their names were called, hoping to break a quorum, but when the name of Sound Money Democrat Senator W. H. Hayward was called and he cast his vote for Henry I.

Martin their last hope was gone. The sound money Democrats voted right along when their names were called for Martin.

The final scene in the play "Blackburnism" was enacted at the Opera house to-night before an audience of about two hundred and fifty people.

The stage was filled with a number of smaller members of the cast, with a few prominent Republican legislators occupying seats.

The star actor of the show, the ex-United States Senator, arose promptly at 8 o'clock, after a rose had been pinned on the lapel of his coat by Col. Robert Tyler, who was Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, who was kindly cheered for his action. Senator Wm. Gogbel presented the fallen idol as "the greatest Democrat in Kentucky."

Blackburn started out by saying that he had not been defeated; that it was only a failure, and that this could be remedied, whereas defeat could not be. He then stated that he had no ill-feeling against the Republicans, who had fought him openly; that it was against the midnight assassins, who, thirteen in number, had stood beneath the Democratic banner and stabbed its nominee; that he felt ill toward them; that he thought God Almighty owed the people of Kentucky an apology for allowing them to exist.

This tirade of abuse against all who had opposed him continued for an hour and a half, and he closed eulogizing Wm J Bryan, and thanking the friends who had stayed with him on all occasions during the past eighteen months.

A number of Republican legislators were present in the hall to vote the dying struggles of the Popocratic leader.

Some idea of the change in sentiment in the South regarding the Tariff question may be gained from this excerpt from the "Atlanta Constitution": "We have received a letter from a prominent lumberman of Savannah, who writes to ask if the 'Constitution' will aid the lumbermen of the United States to have a Protective Tariff of $2 a thousand placed on lumber, if we consistently can."

Your Vitality?

The essence of life is force. Every breath you breathe, every heart beat, every motion of your hand, takes force. The measure of force we call vitality. If this is lacking, there is loss of flesh, lack of relative power, a tendency to catch disease easily, especially a tendency to Consumption. For low vitality, nothing is better than Scott's Emulsion. It supplies force by furnishing the nourishment, strengthening elements of food in an easily digested form; enriches the blood, and builds up the system. When ordinary food is of no avail, Scott's Emulsion will supply the body with all the vital elements of life.

Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00. All druggists. If you will ask for it we will send you a book telling you all about Scott's Emulsion. Free. SCOTT & BROWN, New York.

REPUBLICAN SENATOR. William J. Deboe Elected After a Long Struggle. Received Seventy-one Votes in the Joint Assembly. Will go Straight to Washington to Assist Republican Legislation.

Blackburn Dies Hard, Politically, and Pours hot Shots Into the Gold Democrats.

ALL KENTUCKY GLAD, Deboe, 71. Blackburn, 50. Martin, 13. Stono, 1.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—The hardest fought Senatorial struggle in the history of Kentucky is at an end, and a clean, pure and able Republican statesman will succeed Hon. J. C. Blackburn, who has misrepresented the real sentiments of the people of Kentucky so long.

The end of the memorable struggle, extending over two sessions of the Legislature, brought with it the election of Hon. William J. Deboe, one of the best Republicans in the State. Only forty seven years of age, young, active and brilliant, Senator Deboe will be a credit to his party and an honor to his State. He goes to the Senate with no cliques, rings or pledges to bind him, but as a true representative of every Kentuckian in the State.

Senator Deboe will be on hand ready to vote in the Senate on Monday, and he will cast his vote for Republican principles. Amid the wildest cheering, hand-clapping, waving of parasols, fans and handkerchiefs, Hon. W. J. Deboe was declared elected to-day to be the successor of J. C. Blackburn in the United States Senate.

Before the result of the ballot was announced the cheering began, and in the excitement of the moment a motion to adjourn was entertained and adopted before the newly elected Senator could be brought in for a speech. He received his friends in the west library room after the session, where hundreds called to congratulate him. The sixtieth and final ballot of the session of the General Assembly was held to-day at noon, in the presence of the largest crowd ever present in the historic old hall of the House of Representatives.

The galleries and galleries were filled, and long before the Senate filed in it was almost impossible to move around on the floor of the House. The Governor and all the State officers were present, smiling and happy, on what they knew was to be the final and victorious day of the joint session. The Senate was announced by Doorkeeper Reed promptly at 12 o'clock, and they were fully ten minutes getting seated, when the Lieutenant Governor announced that the session held was for the purpose of taking the sixtieth ballot for the election of a United States Senator from Kentucky.

The reading of the Journal of yesterday was dispensed with, on motion of W. H. Jones. The Clerk then called the roll to ascertain if a quorum was present. Sixty-nine Republicans and twelve southerners Democrats responded to the call, and the Chair announced that eighty one members were present.

Mr. Howard, of Butler, then formally nominated Hon. W. J. Deboe for United States Senator. Amid loud cheers Senator W. H. Clark seconded the nomination. The Chair requested that the House be as quiet as possible while the ballot was being taken, and then ordered the Clerk to proceed with the roll call.

The Democrats refused to vote when their names were called, hoping to break a quorum, but when the name of Samuel Money Democrat Senator W. B. Hayward was called and he cast his vote for Henry I.
